

With the Churches Easter Sunday

Be Sure to Attend the Church of Your Choice

Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over Him. For in that He died, He died unto sin once; but in that He liveth unto God. Likewise reckon ye yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin; but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord. Rom. VI. 9.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. E. T. Hodges, Pastor

The Sunday School meets at 10:00 a. m. W. H. Reed, Superintendent. 11:00 a. m. Subject—The Resurrection. 7:45 p. m.—The Beautifying of the Teaching of God our Savior in all things.

There will be special music for Easter.

The congregation will make the usual offering for Missions at the close of the service. This feature has elicited increased interest in Missions. Next Sunday morning every member of the church and of the congregation will make a generous offering for Missions. Increased prosperity is an incentive to larger liberality.

The following is the committee on Missions: R. B. Allison, chairman, W. P. Bennett, secretary-treasurer, W. B. Culp, J. H. Carnes, W. S. Langley, E. G. Lazenby, Hazel Ferguson, W. S. Hewman.

LOCAL DOTS

The New Bethel democratic club will meet at the New Bethel school house Saturday, April 29 at 3 o'clock.

Mr. F. N. Lowery, of Taxahaw, was a visitor in Lancaster Wednesday. He stated that the farmers were all busy planting crops in his community, and the outlook at present is very gratifying.

E. H. Bost and family have recently moved to Winstonsboro, S. C., where Mr. Bost has secured a splendid position. We regret very much the loss of this excellent family as citizens of Lancaster, but wish them much success in their new home.

The trustees and patrons of the Dry Creek school are requested to meet at the school house Friday afternoon, April 28, at 3 o'clock. Important business.

PROGRAM

Closing Exercises Van Wyck Graded School, April 25-26.

The Van Wyck graded school closing exercises will be held in the school building, on the nights of the 24th and 25th of April, at 8:30. The public is cordially invited to attend.

A play, "Mrs. Tubbs of Shantytown," will be given Tuesday night. The cast of characters are as follows:

Mrs. Mollie Tubbs, the Sunshine of Shantytown—Fay Thompson.

Miss Clingie Vine, her lady boarder—Jeannette Plyler.

Mrs. Ellen Hickey, a neighbor who hates to gossip—Kathleen Bates.

Maydelle Campbell, the pretty young school teacher—Willie Vaughan.

Simon Rubbles, the corner groceryman, looking for a wife—Sammie Vaughan.

Tom Riordan, a young census taker—Newton Nisbet.

Queenie Sheba Tubbs—Pauline Crenshaw.

Mathersalem Tubbs—"Scuffles"—Carlisle Bates.

Billy Blossom Tubbs—Henry Griffen.

Victoria Hortensia Tubbs—"Pinky Dunks"—Willie Dobson.

Elimira Hickey—Mary Yoder Bates.

Synopsis:

Act 1—Mrs. Tubbs and her happy little family in Shantytown. The pretty, young school teacher and the census taker have a disagreement. Mrs. Tubbs, as first aid to cupid, Mrs. Hickey expresses her opinion of Simon Rubbles. Miss Clingie Vine has her census taken. "My man was a Virginia Hamm, and whenever we had company, papa always wore full evening garb." Bad news from Kansas. "There ain't no way too long for a mother's love. I'm going to my boy."

Act 2—A month later. Mrs. Tubbs' return. "There ain't a bit of use in histin' yer umbrella until it begins to rain." Simon Rubbles decides to find a wife. "If he ain't a red headed hippopotamus, there never was one on this green earth." A Shantytown high jinks with song and menagerie. Clingie Vine decides to be a siren. The light in the window for Jimmie. "I've got my babies, and I've got their love, and all the money in the world can't take that from me, so Mr. Simon Rubbles, the honorable Mrs. Tubbs respectfully declines your offer of matrimony."

Act 3—Same scene as Acts 1 and 2. A Shantytown Thanksgiving. Mrs. Hickey brings the news and Miss Vine inherits a fortune. Mr. Rubbles worries Mrs. Tubbs again. "You kin turn me out in the streets to-morrow, but to-night this house belongs to me. Now there's the door and there's your hat; I won't entertain you any longer." Miss Clingie Vine and the good looking grocery boy. "Jimmie, my boy, my boy!" The return of the prodigal son. "I reckon I'm the happiest woman in the United States of America. My cup runneth over, my cup runneth over!"

On Wednesday night the program will be as follows:

Song—"O Columbia, Gem of the Ocean."

Recitation—"Just a Little Every Day"—Sallie Ellen Davis.

Recitation—"In School Days"—Crawford Crenshaw.

Dialogue—"The Spelling Class."

Recitation—"Suppose!"—Maude Wilson.

Recitation—"Market Day"—Claud Thompson.

Song—"Love's Old Sweet Song."

Graduation Essay—"Success"—Jeannette Plyler.

Awarding of diplomas and medals.

Address—Mr. Luther Ellison, of Lancaster.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

USE OF COMMERCIAL FERTILIZERS

The Effect of Each Ingredient Contained Therein

(Furnished The News by Mr. J. F. Nisbet.)

Every plant that grows must have a sufficient supply of nourishment of the kind best suited for each plant's proper growth and development. In order to do this the farmer should carefully study each plant and the soil in which it is to be grown. Find out as nearly as possible which of the three principal ingredients—phosphoric acid, nitrogen or potash—is lacking in the soil, and the one most needed by the particular crop to be fertilized, and then supply this with the proper commercial fertilizer.

The best analysis of your soil is the crop grown on it. In the south we have had too much fertilizers used without knowing why it was used, and not knowing what effect it would have. Now, if your land is thin and run down, first stop the land from washing away by terracing or ditching, and in this way take care of the natural plant food in the soil. This season potash cannot be gotten except in very small quantities, and all we can do is to get a fertilizer containing phosphoric acid and ammonia which will produce a good crop and mature it on our heavy clay lands, and on the white and sandy lands where rust effects the growing crop, we should use a liberal supply of ammonia to keep the plant strong and healthy, keeping the land well drained which prevents rust to a large extent.

The effect of each ingredient following the use of phosphoric acid is a solvent making available the natural plant food in the soil thereby producing the fruit and bringing it to maturity. Ammonia or nitrogen in its various forms causes or produces the vigorous growth of the plant, but only when combined with acid phosphate will the best crops be obtained. Ammonia can be obtained from a great many sources: viz, nitrate of soda which is more quickly available for plant food than that obtained from any other source, dried blood, tankage, fish scrap, cotton seed meal, stable manure and various other things, but only about one-third of the ammonia in any of the home manures is available the first year except when mixed with acid phosphate. Potash makes larger foliage, larger bolls, larger ears of corn and larger fruit on whatever plant it is used. Since potash cannot be bought, our farmers should save all the wood ashes on the farms, and cultivate carefully and judiciously. Keep the soil drained where it is liable to rust and the free use of phosphate of lime to neutralize the acid in the soil good crops will be gathered.

COLDS QUICKLY RELIEVED

Many people cough and cough from the beginning of Fall right through to Spring. Others get cold after cold. Take Dr. King's New Discovery and you will get almost immediate relief. It checks your cold, stops the racking, rasping, tissue-tearing cough, heals the inflammation, soothes the raw tubes. Easy to take, Antiseptic and Healing. Get 50c. bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and keep it in the house. "It is certainly a great medicine and I keep a bottle of it continually on hand" writes W. C. Jesseman, Frankonia, N. H. Money back if not satisfied but it nearly always helps.

THREE SUSPECTS SPEEDILY FREED

Men Arrested at Hardeeville Released

NEW YORK TEACHERS

Men Briefly Held in South Carolina Claim to Be Pedagogues on Walking Trips

Savannah, Ga., April 19.—Federal officials here conducting an investigation into the activities of Mark Markett, Louis Goldberger and Frank Pickelsky, said to be New York school teachers, who were arrested at Hardeeville, S. C., yesterday and held until late to-day on a charge of espionage, expressed astonishment when they learned tonight that the three men had been released on orders of the war department. It was said that Congressman Bennett of New York was instrumental in obtaining their release.

"I am stunned," said Assistant District Attorney C. D. Russell when he heard of it. The three men left Hardeeville for Charleston to-night.

Mr. Russell held a conference here late to-day with Lieut. A. P. Cronkhite, United States Engineer corps who caused the men to be arrested, and it was said afterward that they had a chain of circumstantial evidence against them. Arrangements had been made, it is said, to examine the baggage of the prisoners, which they had left here several days ago.

Markett, Goldberger and Pickelsky said they were hiking back home as a diversion. They arrived in Savannah by steamer Monday morning, being three of about 200 teachers who were brought here on a special Easter excursion. They decided to walk back home, stopping in Charleston en route. They secured a map showing the roads along the coast, they said.

WINDOW DECORATIONS

The News wishes to call attention to the many beautifully decorated store windows in the city and to commend the merchants for this splendid work on their part towards making the business houses so attractive for Easter shoppers.

A judiciously and smartly decorated display window is absolutely the best salesman any store can employ and The News is glad to see our progressive merchants awakening to this fact. In passing we merely call your attention to the beautifully arranged windows of Robinson-Cloud Co., and the J. T. Wyle Co. These are just as complete as will be found in the larger cities. The News plans soon to begin offering prizes for the best decorated windows, designating competition only to the various lines of industry.

ARGUMENTS FOR GOOD ROADS

There is one motor car to every 19 families in the United States, and one motor to every mile of road.

This fact may not convert the habitual pedestrian to any large interest in the national good roads campaign. But put the betterment of highways up to any man as a military necessity and he will soon be backing up your arguments with figures of his own. France, he will probably tell you, was saved from the invader in September, 1914, by her great northern highways, which were perfectly fitted for the rapid transportation of her defending army; and Russia met disaster on her western frontier partly because there were no passable roads in that part of the empire.

The recent increasing interest in roads has many phases. Most minds are quickly impressed with the wonderful scheme for outlining the entire length of the United States boundary with a great national road, to be built and maintained by the government for purposes of defense.

This novel idea attracts both by its practical and its picturesque aspects.

At present the matter most important to the country at large is the Shackleford bill, which provides for the expenditure of large sums of federal money upon roads, and for the creation of a state highway commission.

The building of the Lincoln highway is also creating a tremendous amount of interest. This great span of 3,389 miles will connect the eastern and the western oceans, and will pass through 725 cities, towns and villages. In his annual report, Secretary Lane pointed out greater accessibility to the beauty spots of the United States made possible through the development of good roads.

The enhancement of farm values and the cheapening of foods as the result of the easy access of the farmer to markets indicates the great importance of good roads as a factor of economics.

Not even the habitual pedestrian can escape a vital interest in the development of the highways of the from every point of view.—Southern Good Roads.

GIVE THE WORK STOCK WATER

Clemson College, April 21.—Three times a day is not enough to water livestock. They should have, especially in hot weather, an opportunity of drinking at least five times daily—before each meal, and at intervals of 2 1-2 to 3 hours apart between meals.

The animal that works in hot weather on a 5 or 6 hour stretch without water suffers intensely from thirst. Frequent watering prevents water cholic and other ill effects.

Never allow the animal to drink when very hot. Always force him under such conditions to drink a little at a time until satisfied.
